Press Release on the Occasion of International Nurses' Day

12th of May 2026

This 12th of May let us remind those who are in charge of public policies, both in our Member States and within the institutions of the European Union, that empowering nurses indeed saves lives!

Let us also have a warm thought for our colleagues, the nurses, who will give, as they do every day, their very best to provide efficient and humane healthcare to those who need it, often under exceedingly stressful and challenging conditions.

As Nursing Regulators we are the warrants of the high quality of care delivered by nursing professionals who put patients and public health in the heart of their very being. In this special day, it is with firm conviction and enthusiasm that we renew our pledge to work for excellence in nursing, for a healthy future for all!
